Stainless steel counter with cooling well for GN1/6 pans

The SS sandwich preparation counter is the perfect choice for professional kitchens wanting to keep ingredients fresh and easily accessible. Despite the name, the unit is suitable for much more than sandwich preparation. The unit is made from durable SS304 stainless steel and has fan assisted cooling. With the elevated structure of the built-in cooling well, there is plenty of space for GN1/6 pans without losing any of the cabinet storage space, and you still have a worktop as well. The unit comes with doors and GN1/1 shelves as standard, but you can also choose drawers as an option.
