Stainless steel counter chiller with GN1/1 shelves

The CK7410X1SP is made for professional kitchens, and it offers an ideal solution for keeping ingredients chilled and within easy reach during service. It has a 54% lower energy consumption compared to its predecessor. It is made from durable SS304 stainless steel and features automatic defrost and GN1/1 dimensioned shelves for easy cleaning and smooth workflows. The legs are adjustable, so it is possible to adapt the height of the table to your needs. Its ventilated cooling system keeps contents at a consistent temperature, and the electronic controller makes it easy to adjust the temperature to fit your ingredients. The controller has NFC connectivity and Bluetooth. This means that you via an app can control the lighting, check the temperature of the cabinet, and even export data for easy reporting. It has a tabletop with splash back, which can be removed if you wish to use it as an undercounter chiller and add your own tabletop.
